ROUTINE SERVICING

At Photon Surgical Systems Ltd, we understand the importance of keeping your equipment in good working order at all times and the inconvenience and stress it causes when equipment becomes non-operational.

We have provided our customers efficient, high quality and competitively-priced technical support for decades. Our Engineers have a wealth of experience and work on various makes and models of equipment, both current and discontinued.

Having your Medical Equipment serviced on an annual basis is highly recommended not only by us but by the manufacturers themselves. Many of our products come with extended parts warranties (*subject to the condition that the equipment is serviced regularly by the supplier). Equipment such as X-ray generators must be inspected annually in keeping with RCVS regulations.

During an annual service from one of our experienced engineers your machine will be vigorously inspected and tested thoroughly cleaned and all hair and artefacts removed (where applicable), and potential faults identified & resolved before they become an issue.

If you have multiple items of medical equipment that require annual servicing, why not ask for a quotation for a multi-service deal? The more pieces of equipment we service in a single visit, the higher the discount we can offer - lower prices and less downtime - perfect for a busy Veterinary practice.
